

PROJECT LEADERSHIP SKILLS

ABOUT THE COURSE

To be effective within an organization, project managers need to have a wide variety of skills and abilities. Included among these are: creating and executing on a vision; motivating others; influencing without authority; networking; communicating up, down and laterally; managing stakeholders; and managing conflict.

This highly interactive workshop focuses on building the soft skills that are critical to leading a team and creating sustainable business change. Participants will gain insight into the social science as well as the brain science behind motivating and empowering others. They will learn and experiment with a variety of influencing strategies and tactics. They will collaborate with others to brainstorm, share experiences, and apply concepts to everyday challenges.

Participants will also discover their personal communication preferences, strengths, and blind spots, and will gain insight into how best to communicate with others they find "difficult." They will gain insight into managing the people side of change, learning strategies for dealing with each step in the process. Hands-on activities enhance the theoretical learning, grounding it in real life and making it actionable.

Interweaving role play with experiential learning and group activities, this course will help participants refine a skill set that is invaluable to their organization, and one that transfers easily across their professional and personal lives.

PREREQUISITES

A basic understanding of project management fundamentals or other project management training courses.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Project managers
- Project directors
- PMO Members
- Project specialists
- Project team members

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

At the end of this course, you will be able to:

- Explain the importance of vision in driving motivation and engagement
- Apply science-based research to better motivate those around you
- Strategically leverage both personal and positional power to achieve positive project results
- Determine influencing and networking strategies needed for personal growth
- Identify ways to problem solve communication challenges when others have different personality styles
- Connect stakeholder expectations to project success criteria
- Assess key stakeholders across various dimensions of complexity
- Recognize key aspects of a physiological response to conflict
- Utilize selected tools and techniques to "defuse" an emotional situation
- Leverage various strategies and tactics to successfully deal with ambiguity at work

REGISTER NOW

The Project Management Institute, Upstate New York Chapter, Inc. Annual Professional Development Day (PDD)

7 hours/7 PDUs – Project Leadership Skills

Location: Virtual Classroom

PROJECT LEADERSHIP SKILLS

PMI Upstate New York Chapter (pmiuny.org)

Monday, May 3, 2021

8:30 AM – 4:30 PM

or

PROJECT LEADERSHIP SKILLS

PMI Upstate New York Chapter (pmiuny.org)

Wednesday, May 12, 2021

8:30 AM – 4:30 PM

Contact:

Karen Huggins

Email: pdprofessionaldevelopmentday@pmiuny.org

Telephone: (518) 421.6183

Group discount information available upon request

PDD Pricing	Early Bird on or before May 1, 2021	On or after May 2, 2021
PMI UNY Member	$225	$275
Non-Member	$275	$325

ABOUT IIL

With over 27 years of expertise, IIL is a global leader in training, consulting, coaching and customized course development. IIL's core competencies include Project, Program and Portfolio Management, Business Analysis, Microsoft® Project and Project Server, Lean Six Sigma, PRINCE2®, ITIL®, Agile, Leadership and Interpersonal Skills, Corporate Consciousness and Sustainability. www.iil.com

IIL Global Companies:

Bangalore • Beijing • Benelux • Dubai • Frankfurt • Helsinki • Hong Kong • London • Madrid • New York • Paris • Seoul • Singapore • Sydney • Tokyo • Toronto

